You are in command of an aircraft carrier. In order to keep the ship afloat you must take control of all aircraft on board and eliminate the air pirates and enemy vessels that attempt to board the carrier. The game is a 3D, turn based, Strategy Game. Aircraft carrier is great for multiplayer and local multiplayer with up to 4 players. Aircraft carrier can be played against computer controlled opponents but if you want to play against human opponents than you have to create a team with your allies using the Create Team option in the Game options. If you have problems with your keyboard then you have to write down the buttons you want to use to move your aircraft on the Control pad. There are two control pads in the game. One for left handed play and one for right handed play. If you want to use the right hand manuever you have to press the button with the symbol? on it. If you press the button with the symbol? on the left hand control pad your aircraft will move. You don't have to press it every time but when you press it once your aircraft will move for two turns. The left hand controls are the same as the control pad but if you press the buttons on the left hand control pad it will move your aircraft for one turn. You can create and manage your team from the Main Menu. In the Main Menu you can use the Tutorial option. In the Tutorial you will learn how to install the game, how to start a game with a team you have already created and how to fly aircraft. You can also download a couple of games from the Main Menu. You can play These Games in the Main Menu and Learn how to play them. If you want to learn how to use the In Game Tutorial you can press the Tutorial button on the main Menu. The Tutorial in the game is a quick tour of the game on the screen and on the buttons. But you have to be careful because if you press the Tutorial button on the Main Menu without pressing the Control Pad the tutorial will start and you won't be able to continue playing the game. Some buttons have different names and functions. The example is the Button for Show Controls Window. If you press this button you will see all the buttons on the screen. This button is called Detail button and you have to press it in order to control the detail the window you are looking at on the screen is Megazone 21 for the Playstation (Sega CD/CD-ROM) was created by a group of Japanese developers who wanted to create a slick and accessible game for the Japanese market. This game is primarily set in a sprawling cyber-city, with a few futuristic twist to it and a story that is similar to a Japanese manga / anime. A cyborg uprising threatens the world. In Megazone 21 you take control of Avaron, a cyborg engineer who crash lands in Cyber City. Using Cyber technology and superpowered nanomachines you can transform Avaron, from a crash-landed human in rags to a high-tech space suit capable of incredible feats. You will meet a range of friendly and menacing factions, encounter the mysterious Dragon and uncover the secrets of the mysterious Black Moon. This base game is the first part of the Megazone 21 series, and contains more than 15 game-play and non-game playable tracks. Features: * ~16:50 long Game and Non-Game play track* ~40 track total * 17 character events* Playable tracks include: - Motorbike duet (with lead vocals from Japanese funk metal band Loudness) - Slow Rocker - Space Needle - Cartoony Dub - Amazon Jungle - Cosmic Dance - Ballad of a Searchlight - Cyber City Dance - Frank Sinatra (U.S.A.!) - Flying Schottische - Los Angeles Theme - Love Dream (instrumental) - Groundloop - Return of the Space Princess (with vocals by Mai Nozawa of POPEYE) - Sleepy Glow (instrumental) - Space Doll - Space Tide - SRK Gadget (feat. ## What's new in Humans Must Answer:

Logan tried to hide her fair skin. It turned out just fine; instead the light caught her eyes in a way that made them glow. She thought about staying cooped up indoors, but that seemed dull compared to the beach and surfing. She wore a short-sleeved top and a tiny skirt, but lately she had been letting her hair grow into a swirl. It felt good brushing her teeth. Then, walking across the sand with her brother, she thought about what it would be like to bathe in the sea instead of taking a proper bath. She knew she wasn't like every other girl at school. She never seemed to get dirty, if that made sense. It wasn't that she kept always clean--she'd been watching the activities at the beach. The guys would jump in, drench each other, then shake off the excess. There were definitely not enough towels for everyone, but it was cool. Over in the surfboard section, things were different. The men and women rarely saw each other except for first names. Sometimes they referred to girls by numbers rather than by name. That's how her brother ended up marrying one of them. She didn't know anybody's last name. She didn't even know everybody's first name. Some were Korean, some were Mexican, and a lot were from the West Coast. It was dirty and awkward, she knew, but she'd seen enough on TV to be afraid her own time might be up. As it was, they had never gotten to grow up together like her and her brother. She was half-empty-headed as she walked out of the sand at the break and turned east. Kagami stepped down from his board and saw de León. Now, there was a name he didn't know. Interesting. This woman looked a lot younger than his sister. She turned and took in this man with a sexy smile. Determined to close the gap and slide in beside de León, Kagami smiled warmly at the woman. Even if she were starting to look upset, he would extend a hand and try to make some mutual sense. Slipping into the water was a chore. It was slimy and cold. Try as he might, Kagami couldn't relax completely. A lot of shoving and pushing. There were at least eleven or twelve surfers catching up on the fun since the beach was quiet only a short while ago. The

After two years of development, CINERIS SOMNIA's most ambitious and unique game, is finally out! "Beneath A Silver Moon" is a visual novel with elements of a rogue-like puzzle game, featuring a vast array of objects, characters and interactions that will stir emotions. The music is CINERIS SOMNIA's most representative artistic creation so far. A series of notes, melodies and lyrics will take you on a journey into the world of the Ciné-Parks. They are an oasis of supernatural horror for the mind. A hidden layer of delirium for the soul. Interwoven into the story are the most abstract and melancholic musical compositions, with some of the most controversial themes ever to be associated with Arcadia. "Beneath A Silver Moon" will please CINERIS SOMNIA's fans with the perfect combination of visual novel, rogue-like gameplay and an amazing soundtrack.
