Set in a dark and unforgiving future, the battle for the Kingdom of Skal be fought from the heights of the sky to the depths of the sewers and from the streets of Novigrad to the halls of power. Players must fight on foot, as ranged attackers, as defenders and as siege weapons - each with their own pros and cons. Game Mechanics:

- Skaven's Infestations cause random areas to become poisoned. The longer the players survive in these areas, the more damage they will do to their enemies.
- Players can choose between eight different heroes with different specializations and abilities.
- Players can also create their own unique loadout by combining a hero's equipment.
- Each loadout will give the player its own passive abilities and a personal experience bonus.
- Players can build traps to block important points in the level and wreak havoc upon their enemies.
- Melee weapons can be upgraded by mixing in attributes like damage, range or reload time.
- Every weapon will affect your health differently depending on its specific attributes.
- Three different character classes exist: Ranged, Melee and Siege.
- Heroes and traps can be equipped on the back, the front or on the hands.
- Heroes and traps can be placed on an inventory shelf to quickly swap out to new weapons.
- Heroes and traps are stored in your loadout.
- Every hero and trap is equipped in its own inventory.
- Heroes and traps can be used as ranged attackers or as defenders.
- Players can also choose to hide. This will prevent the hero from triggering traps, enemies and their own abilities.

- "Track C is a next generation iOS game simulator that aims to bring the classical story of the "Neo Tokyo" to a more dynamic and interactive platform. In a basic urban life where buildings and interiors look like real, the player creates his/her own career with goals, challenges and sidequests. The player has their own apartment which can be completed with furniture, and a fully functional job-center where the player can get different jobs that will attract the attention of potential employers. - Track C will offer a seemingly endless in-depth progression, with an ultimate objective to be reached. In every level and every town, the player will have to make choices that can affect his/her "game" in a permanent way, his/her relationships and his/her path to reach the ultimate goal, which will not be easy. - Track C has been designed as a rich and detailed fantasy world, which also offers an immersive and exciting gaming experience." - This Game is for a Very old and generally experienced player, with familiarity with point-and-click, visual novels and RPGs, in other words, a walk in the park. - Genre: RPG, City Simulation - Game Environment: - Town: -

City: - College: - Castle: - Castle: - Underground: The foundation of the project was inspired by the games Tom and Jerry, as well as by the works of the Japanese developer NieR: Automata, as well as the "Sword Art Online" anime, and other software games, from which we borrow different concepts: that is, the action games for a town simulation, the RPG format and the adventure game for which the player is the protagonist, as well as new elements, such as the relationship and friendship system, the core of the game where the player can act and interact with his/her environment. Other basic concepts, such as the basic stat progression, the enemies whose destruction that must be overcome, and the power levels will come later. Once we have a solid vision of the game, we will begin to plan and develop, making the balance between the different aspects, and that in the start we will be sure that our game will be the one that the player wants to play. To continue playing and participate in this project, you will need to create an account in our development environment, as well as pay for it, through the use of cryptocurrency, which is called INES: - [Link to our contract](c9d1549cdd

The best VR game for shooting, dodging, twirling and maneuvering around objects, enemies and your friends. The Second Reality is a free videogame for people who like turn-based tactical games, exploration, team play and multiplayer, with an emphasis on art and storytelling. It's all about skill, timing and strategy, with the emphasis on the first three. The Second Reality is a 2D game that is played using a split-screen, however, there are local co-op multiplayer modes available as well. The Second Reality is a turn-based tactical game, played in real time, with a randomly generated map and a new map every time you play. The aim of the game is to become the first team to build and launch a rocket into the sky, destroying all enemies along the way. There is no randomness in the power-ups (or grenades) you can find along the way; you always know exactly what you'll find, and your enemy will always have the same set of items. Game play features are: Interactive cutscenes - as you play, you can control what your character does on screen, and have the full audio experience. Fully dynamic camera - the camera is always looking where you need to be to do what you need to do. Turn based tactical gameplay - every movement, action and option is calculated in real time, like chess. Connecting to a game server will be an optional feature that allows you to compete against other players from around the world. The Second Reality also includes a storyline with missions and characters that you will be able to unlock as you play. Control - using WASD controls. Also available: In the local multiplayer mode: - 3P mode (works best when there are 2 players per team) - Last person standing - Local team leader mode. The Second Reality is a free game designed to be played on Xbox One, and it's available at the Xbox Games Store. The Second Reality is a free game designed to be played

Description HEALTH Unforgiven is a 3 health monster with no AC and the role of a zombie. However, Unforgiven has a damage output of "Varies by image" meaning it will inflict different amounts of Damage as determined by the DM.

Comments What can really be said? This is a simple monster and it's stats are unusual at best but it's the only saving throw that I could find which may not be called'surp.'

perhaps just scurp. This isn't decided until the monster's saving throw is rolled so it isn't certain if it will even make its saving throw every time. this says 1d10+W Fortitude vs.
none. In this encounter there are sometimes no saves at all so there is a Warlord saving charm since the "combat-worthy" player can turn their NPC's invisible. The usual combat maneuvers are allowed and in the case of Halflings and Dwarves you can make a melee attack normally without moving if you are holding your weapon (Even Infinity Heroes is a card game, similar to Magic: The Gathering or Hearthstone. With the strategic layers that developed in Magic, Infinity Heroes now has a card game with strategic depth! The game takes place in a randomized world, matching the creative content of tabletop games. The cards that players use come from a single core set, with 4 new cards added every week. Each of these 4 new cards is added to your deck. The last card added to your deck is the one you use for your turn. From there, your opponent chooses their card and does their turn. You make one, then your opponent makes their turn. This continues until both players have completed their turn and both have locked in their cards. The game then shows your best 3 played cards, and your opponent's best 3 played cards. Then, you and your opponent resolve your highest cost and lowest cost card. After that, both players choose a new card from their decks, and that's it! What sets this game apart from other card games? Infinity Heroes gives you tactical choices, so whether you use a higher level of card game strategy or action, you always have the tools to win! - More than 200 card types to use! Cards can be used for Enchantments, Crafting, Relics, Ultimate, Abilities and Powers. - All cards have levels. Higher level cards cost more to use. Cards with the same level don't use any additional power. You have to consider if a higher level card will be better in some way, even if it's expensive for you to use. - Classes are Core Cards. You can change them out and gain access to a new deck. But, the real depth comes from upgrading your card types. Classes are cards that add abilities to your decks, while Type cards are the building blocks to upgrade your deck into the class you want. - Classes and Levels are used to grant powers, actions, and items to a single player. With the core set of cards being unlimited, you get to create your own unique hero to take on the battlefield. - There are also Choices, which are a way to say “do something” to resolve the current card you have in play. These are a simple trigger that will ask you what to do, and you choose the best card to put into play. - Ultimates are special cards that boost your hero power or give them specific powers. But,
