Story highlights Facebook will cooperate with the investigation A total of 27 Indians have died (CNN) The parents of a young woman killed in the Sunday Burdwan blast in West Bengal state, India, say they are afraid they will suffer the same fate as their daughter, because they have not been able to locate her for two months. Savita Halder, a 26-year-old college graduate, was killed when a suspected bomb exploded inside a crowded marketplace on Sunday afternoon. Police said about 20 kilograms (44 pounds) of explosives were packed into two barrels, one of which was filled with gasoline, at the Mayabazar market, which is owned by the state government. The blast went off about an hour after the first of two blasts at the market, which was packed with people looking for bargains when the second blast occurred. The daughter's parents, Dinesh and Bharti, and mother-in-law Sudha, also attended the second blast. Read More
